

The Evolution of Battery Power Equipment

Scott Grim – Technical Sales Specialist, Midwest Stihl Inc.

Description of Presentation

Where battery products were in the past, where battery products are now, where are they going in the future. Can battery products compete with gas power products and are they a viable resource for large end users. Will also have live demonstrations.

Speaker Bio

Scott Grim has been in the small engine and handheld power equipment business for 30+ years. He was a Lawn and Garden Service Manager for 14 years at a large John Deere Dealership. He serviced and sold STIHL handheld power equipment and has been STIHL Gold Certified since 2012. He has been a Technical Sales Specialist with Midwest STIHL for 3 1/2 years. He works closely with end users doing demos and various trainings.