

Pruning Medium, Upright and Fast Growing Trees – Ryan Rodefer

A medium-sized, upright and generally fast-growing tree is not everyone's favorite tree to prune for structure. It is easy to get lost and overwhelmed. We will discuss methods, tips and tricks on how to approach these jobs and walk away with a feeling of accomplishment.

Speaker Bio –

Ryan spent 17 years with Wachtel Tree Science. In that time he was a crew leader, safety coordinator and training. Ryan also spent 5 years as a Gateway Tech Adjunct Professor. Currently, Ryan is with Arbsession as the Lead Arborist Engineer/Trainer/Tester and volunteers with the WAA as the President Elect and outdoor and climbers corner presentation planner.